

EXCURSION TO SALT LAKE CITY

12:30 pm: Grab your lunch and hop on the Salt Lake City bus for the 45-minute ride to the popular tourist attraction of Temple Square. On the way there, we'll drive by the Capitol Building, the Huntsman Cancer Center, the Primary Children's Hospital, the University of Utah and some stately early 1900's homes on South Temple Street. Arriving at Temple Square we will first visit the Family History Discovery Center. Many fun interactive displays and videos let you see what happened the day you or your ancestors were born, learn about your name, or even find an ancestor's name you didn't know before--Bring some names of ancestors to look up. No charge. Cross the street to Temple Square and take a tour in one of 40 languages. There are many other exciting things within walking distance to fill your afternoon. The bus will be back at the west side of Temple Square at 7:30 pm and leave to return to Ogden at 8.

When in Rome, visit the Vatican. When in Salt Lake City, visit Temple Square!

TEMPLE SQUARE:

- Temple Square-- Tours available in 40 languages. Enjoy the world renowned gardens and see and hear about the Temple, Tabernacle, and Assembly Hall. Don't miss Thorvaldsen's magnificent 11-foot Christus in the North Visitor's Center. Be in the tabernacle at 2 pm for a free organ concert.
- The Joseph Smith Memorial Building--formerly the Hotel Utah, was built in 1911 and has been beautifully renovated for receptions and conferences. Go sit and rest in the elaborate lobby, enjoy the free movie in the Legacy Theater, or dine and enjoy the view on the 10th floor at The Roof ("fusion of inspiring views and extravagant food") or The Garden (not quite so pricey but still with the great view). Call 801-539-1911 or 801-531-1000 to reserve a table.
- Conference Center—21,000 seat home to the semi-annual LDS conferences as well as concerts and events. Free tours available. Directly north of Temple Square.
- Beehive House and Lion House—Get to know Brigham Young by visiting his home like you would know George Washington from visiting Mt. Vernon or Thomas Jefferson after Monticello. The Lion House Café is a delightful place to eat, inside or out on the patio. One-half block east of Temple Square on South Temple Street.
- Museum of Church History and Art—Exhibits about various aspects of the LDS Church and its leaders from 1830 to today. Interactive media films, and demonstrations. Across the street west from Temple Square, next to the Family History Library.
- Other sites—Check the Temple Square information brochure provided by your tour guides.

OVER FOR MORE

Other attractions, all within a short hike:

- City Creek Mall—Across South Temple Street from Temple Square is an upscale mall with part of City Creek running through it. Shop till you drop! Or eat till.....!
  - Clark Planetarium—Hop on Trax (it's free downtown) going West and ride to the Planetarium stop. $9 for adults and $7 for matinee before 5.
  - Utah State Capitol—350 North State Street. State Street runs north and south one block east of Temple Square.
  - Utah Museum of Fine Arts—410 Campus Center Drive on the University of Utah campus. Diverse collection spanning 5,000 years of global visual art. To get there ride the Trax line to the University of Utah.
  - Catholic Cathedral of the Madeleine—331 East South Temple Street. Beautiful Gothic Revival architecture built in 1900.
  - St Paul's Episcopal Church—261 South 900 East.
  - First Presbyterian Church of Salt Lake City—12 North C Street (corner of South Temple and 400 East).
  - Abraham Hall—123 South Temple Street. Home of the Utah Symphony.
  - Salt Lake City Public Library—210 East 400 South across from the City and County Building. Architecturally unique structure.
  - Pioneer Memorial Museum—300 North Main Street. Massive manor housing paintings, photos, manuscripts and memorabilia from Utah's earliest founders.
  - Alfred McCune Home—200 North Main Street. One of the mansions on Capitol Hill built in 1901. Now used for weddings, receptions and business events.
  - Thomas Kearns Mansion and Carriage House—603 East South Temple Street. Official residence of the Governor of Utah. Tours by appointment only.
  - Use your smart phone to download a self-guided walking tour of Salt Lake City. Search for "Utah Heritage Walks" in the app store.
- ❖ DINNER-- There are many restaurants listed on the map your tour guides provided you. Choose one and enjoy your meal. Some serve alcohol--just ask at the door if you want to make sure.

Joseph Smith Memorial Building

Family History Library

Beehive and Lion Houses

Conference Center